

Bosch: Your First Choice in Brakes

Bosch started manufacturing brake components back in 1927. This rich heritage has given Bosch an aftermarket range that includes 26 product lines with over 10,000 part numbers. In fact, one in three Asian, European and domestic cars on the road today have Bosch braking components. Bosch's braking expertise covers everything from test equipment and software for diagnostics, electronic repair components (ABS and EPS), wear-and-tear parts such as pads, shoes, fluid and disc rotors, as well as hydraulic spare parts such as master and wheel cylinders, and calipers.
